

Welcome to the first edition of the CES Ezine - our online newsletter. This is an update on our activities in evidence-informed policy and practice to improve outcomes for children, young people and the families and communities in which they live.

CES welcomes new CEO

We are delighted to announce the appointment of Nuala Doherty as Chief Executive Officer of the Centre for Effective Services, in succession to Deborah Ghate. Nuala joins CES from her post as CEO of the National Education Welfare Board. Click here to read her full biography

CES's new website is launched

CES aims to be at the cutting edge of effective knowledge transfer and online communication in order to achieve our mission to promote and support the application of an evidence-informed approach to policy and practice in child, family and community services. Our new website will become a repository of information about the field of evidence-informed policy and practice. Click here to view our new website

CES library and online resources - accessing evidence to support your work

Based in our Dublin office the CES library is a unique resource for those working with children, families and communities. The library holds journals, books, reports and intervention manuals and programmes and reflects the evolving multi-disciplinary and international nature of the research into policy and practice. Click here to enter our library online catalogue

Listen to our latest podcasts on evidence-informed policy and practice

Podcast title: What Can Economic Evaluation Do For You?
Podcast title: Using Outcomes to Develop Public Policy - In Good Economic Times and Bad
Podcast title: Logic Modelling- supporting clear and achievable outcomes for children, young people and the communities in which they live

Latest CES associated training and events

Masterclass: Implementation - From evidence-informed programmes to mainstream practice
Global Implementation Conference: The science and practice of using science in practice

External stakeholder's events

This link will bring you to the online calendar of events in the field

Please feel free to circulate the information within your organisation as appropriate. If you do not wish to receive further emails from the CES please email us at office@effectiveservices.org and your details will be removed from our mailing list.